

Dajia hao! Hi everybody!

My name is Matyas (Mathias) Hartyandi and I am a third year student of philosophy and Chinese language and culture at the Faculty of Humanities of ELTE, Budapest, Hungary.

My father is the main person responsible for my attraction towards Chinese culture, whose stories about his journeys to China and his gifts he brought me from the country already as a child determined my main field of interest. Fortunately I gained scholarship to China for the next year so now I'm really excited!

Although I'm not a typical chemistry person :), I'm a really social, energetic and kind - maybe because I'm very interested in human things, for example in pedagogy and as an amateur actor in theater. In addition I like traveling and getting in touch with others!

My Chinese is not as good as my English, but I will try to do my best to feel yourself good in Hungary! Feel free to get contact with me on: hartyandim@gmail.com. I will answer and help you with pleasure.

(Don't be afraid of my hairstyle. It keeps changing! :)
