

I'm Danica Brczán, I'm studying at ELTE University. I'm in my fourth year, which means I'll do my thesis next year. I'm in the faculty of Croatian and Serbian language. This doesn't mean that I'm solely interested in humanities but I'm intrigued by the great questions of literature. Besides reading and talking about literature I write poems sometimes for my own entertainment, but I'm interested in the new results of quantum physics or biology too. Besides university I also work; I teach Croatian and Serbian in a language school. I love this work because it's important for me to be among people and to pass on the knowledge I have. What do I usually do? I study and teach, otherwise books, movies, meeting friends maybe in a café, I love to be in nature, hiking, playing with my dog. I love sports too. I do yoga, swimming, recently I have tried Pilates – I like to experiment with new things.
