

Hi there,

I am Lilla Benbrika, a 24-year-old Hungarian student with Algerian family ties from my father's side.

I'm studying Arabic and German languages at the ELTE University in Budapest. Actually I'm working on my Arabic thesis (on a Syrian writer). It means that it is my final year, so I'm graduating in July just before you come.

Two years ago I had the chance to spend an academic year in Syria at Damascus University with a scholarship. It has been the greatest experience in my life, which made me sure that I'd like to devote my life to Arabic culture and language.

In my free time I do everything related to Arabic language (reading books and newspapers, listening to music and watching tales). Besides, I like traveling, taking trips and getting to know foreign cultures. Sometimes I watch a film in the cinema with my friends or we sit in a café for a chat. I also like swimming or walking in Budapest, which is beautiful, you will see...
