

Hello! My name is Peter Tempfli. I am a third year student of Faculty of Philosophy in Budapest, studying Slavonic languages and literature. Since my mum is from Russia, Russian is my second language, and I speak also Czech, a bit Polish and English. Oh, and at the moment I am learning French – I would really like to learn this beautiful language.

In my free time I am reading a lot, translating, sometimes working, and of course traveling. At the moment my dream is to organize a trip to Istanbul – maybe, this summer.

I have lot of friends and I like making new ones, I enjoy talking and to know new people. I'm really interested in culture of other nations. I am especially interested in cuisine of different nations, and I also can tell something about Hungarian food tradition :)
